TRAINING

TRAINING PLANS IN YOUR ORGANIZATION?

Every year, companies find themselves planning how their investments will be; a task in which, most of the times, a budget for training plans is forgotten, thus facing high rates of job desertion, lack of commitment on the part of employees and economic losses.

This fact leaves without answer the needs, challenges and positioning of companies in the face of their competition, thus making training a decisive factor, by seeking to reinforce, motivate and optimize work areas and improve the skills of human talent.

MAXIMIZE THE PERFORMANCE OF YOUR STAFF

At PRAXIS, we have specialized training services based on technological changes, demands and market requirements. We adjust to the core business and needs of each organization. In addition, we implement IT trends in companies, offering training services tailored to their needs and objectives.

Our training services promote significant savings in time and costs, decreasing job desertion by 12%, with trained instructors, skilled in the technology sector, allowing our training processes to be based on real problems and solutions to which organizations are faced on a daily basis.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

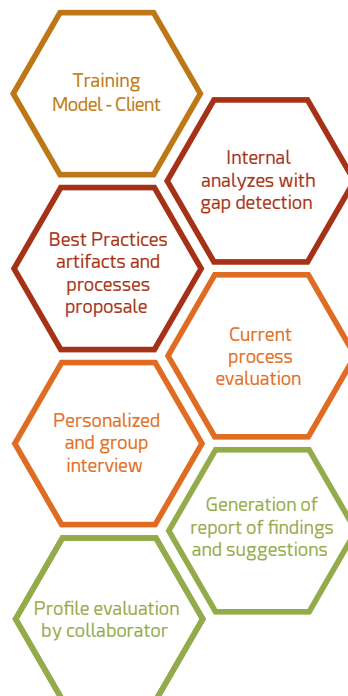

Having the ISO 9001-2015 QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM certification gives us the possibility to offer the best quality standards, guaranteeing our clients the training of competent personnel, which contributes positively to the achievement of the goals and objectives proposed in their different work areas.

We offer on-site and online programs, created to improve and enhance the performance of employees, with the flexibility that the market demands.

We focus on the fundamental aspects such as: profiles, performance criteria, evaluation and training instruments, verification or certification forms and corresponding procedures.

We have a wide catalog of training and certifications with international validity.
